Before Simulator Usage

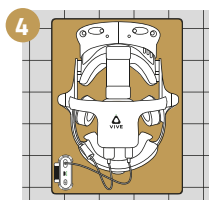

Ensure there are no obstacles in the training area, no direct sunlight, and no reflective surfaces.

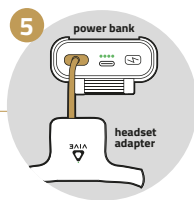

Clean and disinfect the equipment.

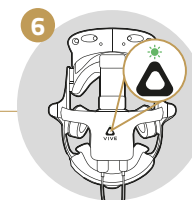

Ensure that the base stations are turned on. After a few seconds, the light will turn to green.

Place the headset and power bank on the mat in the middle of the training area.

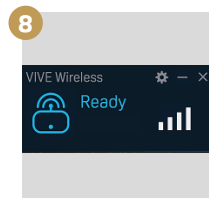

Connect the headset adapter to the power bank and switch it on with the  button on the power bank.

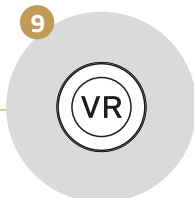

A green light appears on the headset adapter.

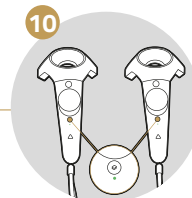

Go to the computer and start the VIVE Wireless application.

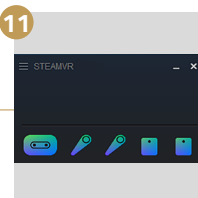

Wait until VIVE Wireless is ready. Check if the headset adapter is still active, otherwise re-activate it by clicking the button on top.

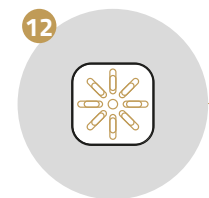

Start the SteamVR application.

Switch the controllers on by holding down the  button until you hear a beep. A solid blue light will appear on both controllers below this button.

Wait until all symbols appear colored. Note: The headset and controllers may switch to standby mode. To re-activate them, move them slightly.

Start the Simulator Hub application.

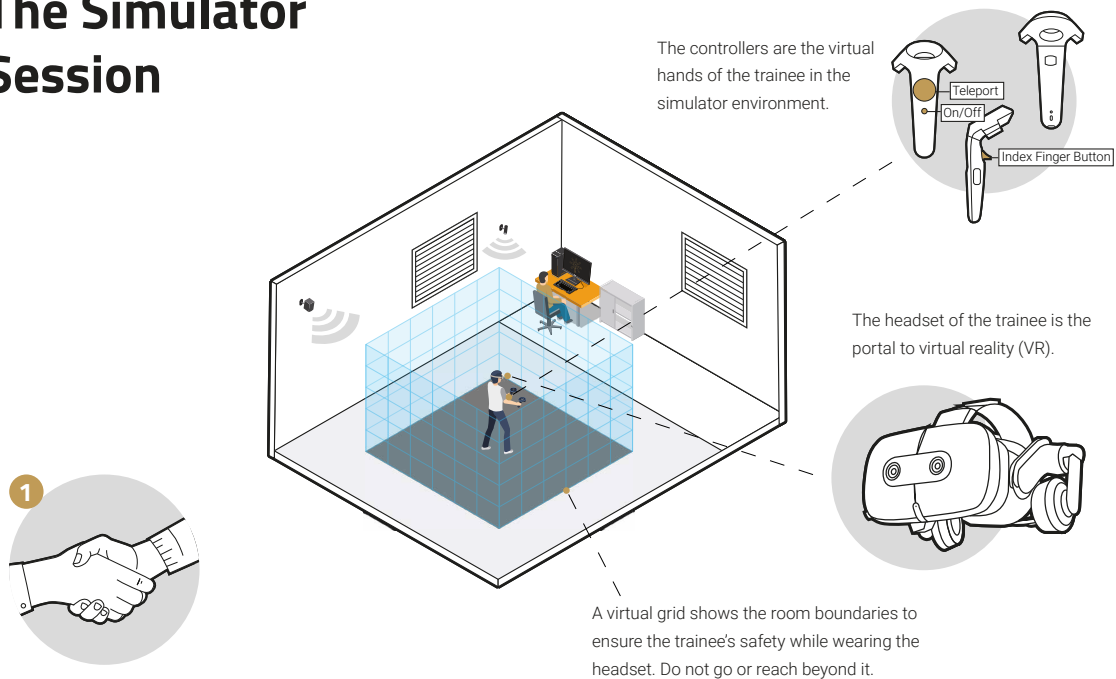

Continue with the instructions on the next page.

The Simulator Session

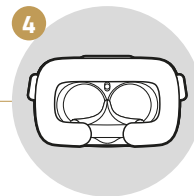

Welcome the trainee.

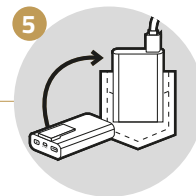

Check if the trainee is aware of the health and safety guidelines.

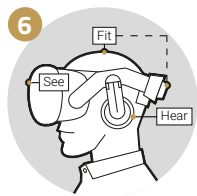

Introduce the trainee to the simulator system and give a brief overview of its content and an introduction to the VR equipment.

Use a new VR hygiene face mask.

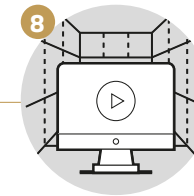

Give the power bank to the trainee and mount it on a belt or pocket.

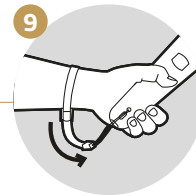

Help the trainee put on the headset and ensure it is fitted correctly. Let the trainee adjust the headset to achieve a sharper image.

Give the controllers to the trainee. The straps must be placed around the wrist and tightened.

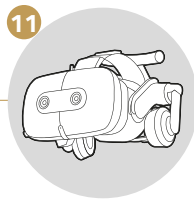

Start the training module on the computer and complete it.

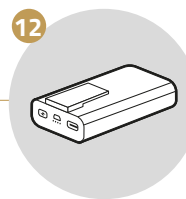

Loosen the straps and take back the controllers from the trainee.

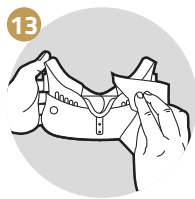

Place the controllers on the desk.

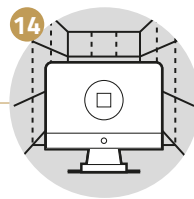

Help the trainee take off the headset and welcome them back to the real world.

Take the power bank back from the trainee.

Clean and disinfect the VR equipment.

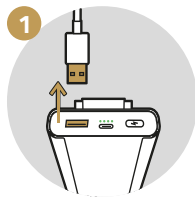

Close the training module.

Nach der
Simulator-Anwendung

Vor der Simulator-Anwendung

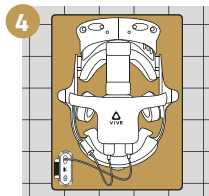

1 Stelle sicher, dass der Trainingsbereich frei von Gegenständen ist und kein Sonnenlicht oder reflektierende Flächen vorhanden sind.

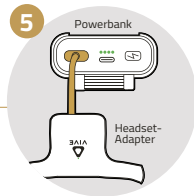

2 Reinige und desinfiziere das Equipment.

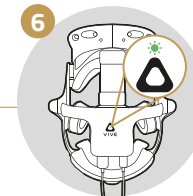

3 Schalte die Sensoren ein. Nach einigen Sekunden wechselt das Licht auf Grün.

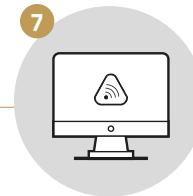

4 Lege das Headset und die Powerbank auf die Matte in der Mitte des Trainingsbereichs.

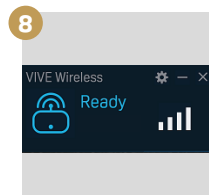

5 Verbinde den Headset-Adapter mit der Powerbank und schalte sie mit der  Taste ein.

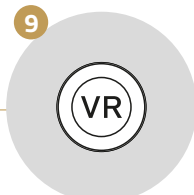

6 Auf dem Headset-Adapter erscheint ein grünes Licht.

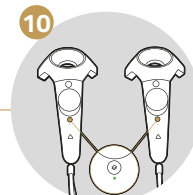

7 Gehe zum PC und starte die VIVE Wireless-Anwendung.

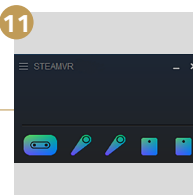

8 Warte bis VIVE Wireless bereit ist. Prüfe, ob der Headset-Adapter noch aktiv ist. Andernfalls reaktiviere ihn mit einem Klick auf die Schaltfläche.

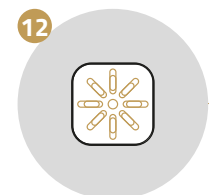

9 Starte die SteamVR-Anwendung.

10 Schalte die Controller ein, indem du die  Taste gedrückt hältst, bis du einen Piepton hörst. Anschließend erscheint am Controller ein blaues Licht.

11 Warte, bis alle Symbole in Farbe erscheinen. Hinweis: Headset und Controller können in den Standby-Modus wechseln. Bewege sie, um sie wieder aufzuwecken.

12 Starte die Simulator Hub-Anwendung.

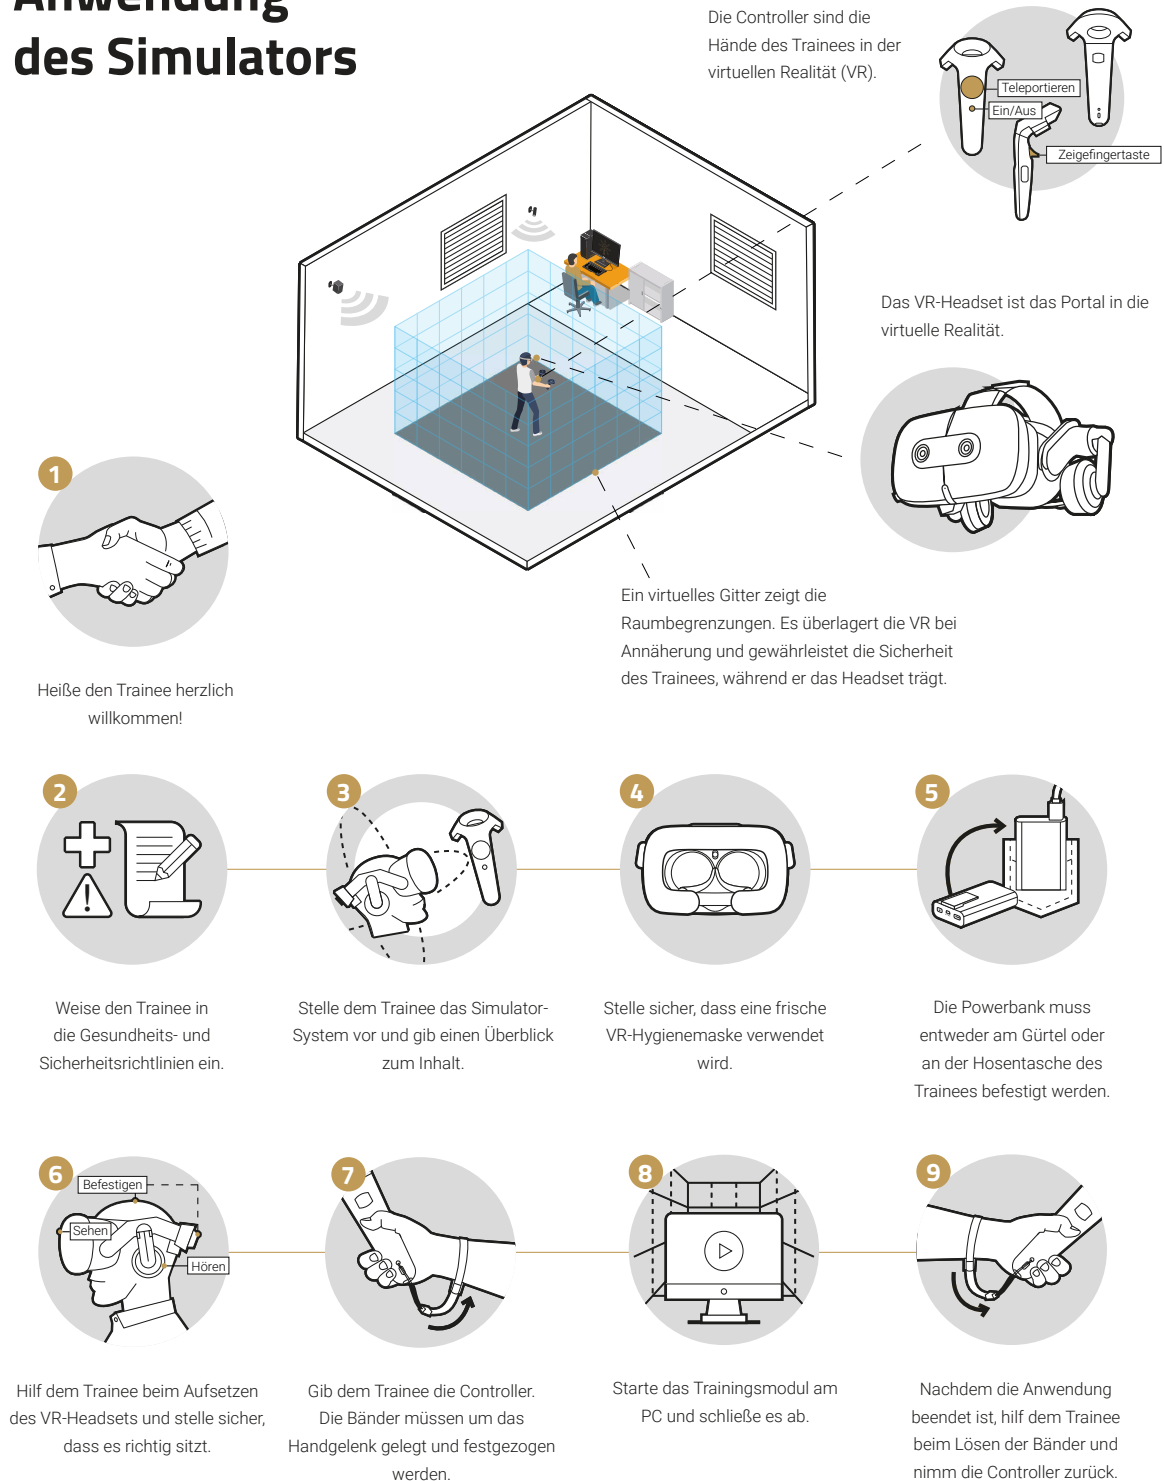

13 Fahre fort mit den Anweisungen auf der nächsten Seite.
